Person #1 – I am well, thank you and you? How are you?

Person #2 – I am bad. I have some problems with learning Italian.

Person #1 – I thought you understood your Italian lessons well. Why now do you have some problems?

Person #2 – I understood well when we were studying verbs and the various tenses like the present, future, imperfect, imperative, present perfect, etc.

Person #1 – I remember. You know the verbs very well, the conditional, subjunctive and the compound tenses. Your pronunciation is good also. It is hard for me to remember some modal verbs.

Person #2 – A little bit of grammatical rules about verbs is difficult to learn but pronouns and prepositions are very hard!

Person #1 – Really? I already know some pronouns but I don't know any prepositions. Why are they difficult to learn?

Person #2 – You have to learn about relative pronouns, direct object pronouns, indirect object pronouns then you have to learn about prepositions, Enough!

Person #1 – Ok, you need some time to rest. I remember that someone told me when it is like this it is good to rest.

Person #2 – You are right. Do you want to do something? Want to drink some wine?

Person #1 – Yes, lets drink some wine and talk about something that is easier to learn, maybe nouns and articles.

Person #2 – Sometimes, you have good ideas. Thank you.

Person #1 – You are welcome, lets go!
